Tired of recession? Let's build some business!

Website marketing and SEO involve "getting your website listed and showing up so folks find you when they need XYZ products and services".

Search engines just want to provide the best, most useful information about what their users are searching. When you search using a key word, say "IT services", the results that show up, and more importantly, the order in which sites show up, depends on how useful the search engines rate the website content related to the keyword "IT Services", for their users.

What this means- Search Engine Optimization Keys:

1. You have to know which keywords to focus your content on!
2. Other variables also count -such as link popularity, backlinks, keyword density etc.
3. The web site needs to be optimized for the right keywords and the other variables.
4. Paid listings can get immediate results!
